

LETTER OF ANNOUNCEMENT
Update: COVID-19 measures for Belgium

10th August 2020

Due to the increased number of COVID-19 infections, the Belgian authorities (during their last National Security Council) have decided to strengthen specific measures and provide some additional recommendations. As a result, the new Belgian guidelines are as follows:

- Social bubbles should be reduced to five people for an entire family;
- Meetings and events should be limited to a maximum of 10 people;
- Working from home is strongly recommended to avoid too much contact between colleagues.

Taking these recommendations into account—and given the fact that EMVO staff members may have returned from destinations which might have moved from green to orange or even red zones—EMVO's Management has decided to reinstate our home office for all staff members with immediate effect.

The situation will be reviewed upon further governmental recommendations with a conclusion being provided no later than 31st August 2020.

EMVO will ensure continued support and assistance to all partners. The usual channels of communication remain at your disposal.
